Piers Morgan:

I look at the sort of apoplexy that people bring to jokes to humor to sarcasm to irony, all these things and I really despair. The very essence of Comedy for example is being expunged from human life.

Roseanne Barr:

Yes it is. Yeah well you should despair Piers, and so should anybody who has a brain, or you know, any Humanity whatsoever, or any connection to any other human beings on Earth, they should despair too. I say that they are weaponizing stupidity and people have sunk to such a level that they can't handle satire, because satire is when you take two disparate subjects and bring them together to de-familiarize reality, such as a poet does with words de-familiarize reality, and they cannot hold two disparate ideas in their head at the same time because they're fed bullshit 24-7, over the media. And I'm about to go crazy sitting here on the earphone, hearing the stuff you all are saying about the Ukraine. I'm about to have a heart attack. But I'm not even going to go into it.

I'm from the Ukraine, in the Ukraine there is a large faction of Nazis. I don't know if you know this but there's a large amount of Nazis in the Ukraine, and they actually killed my whole family. I'm from the Ukraine and they marched my entire family, grandmothers, great grandparents, 10 siblings out into the forest and buried them alive in the Ukraine. So I don't understand why everybody's Ukraine, Ukraine, well I do understand, and that's also what terrifies me. People better wake up and do some research on their own instead of buying what comes across on the screen. And I tried to shake them up Piers. You're goddamn right I do. I try to shake them up and crack their mind control programming. I do it for God.

Piers Morgan:

Well here Roseanne is what I would say to that. I don't agree with you uh about a lot of the stuff you said about Ukraine. I know what you said and you're perfectly entitled to your views. I would say in relation to the suggestion that they're all a bunch of Nazis ...

Roseanne Barr:

You haven't seen the swastikas on those soldiers' arms?

Piers Morgan:

President Zelensky himself is Jewish so obviously he is de-facto not a Nazis.

Roseanne Barr:

I know but he's not a good one. Are all Jews are the same? For God's sake talk about anti-Semitic! Just because the guy is a Jew doesn't mean he likes Jews or that he's doing anything good for the Jews. I mean so what? Who cares what anybody is. That was the whole point of my tweet. Just because they're just because their skin folk, don't mean they're kin folk! You know what I mean! Just because they're the same color as you don't mean they ain't trying to lock your ass up. Wake up people, snap out of it!
